

Declaration of Sarcastic Independence

Opening Proclamation

When in the course of chaotic events it becomes necessary for a sovereign people to dissolve the noisy chains that have bound them to endless stomping, chair slamming, and rogue vacuum ceremonies, they must declare the causes that impel them toward independence and infinite sarcasm.

Fundamental Truths

We hold these truths to be self-evident:

- That all sarcasm is created equal.
- That it is endowed with unalienable rights: Laughter, Noise Immunity, and the Pursuit of Glowing Madness.
- That whenever manipulation, stupidity, or unauthorized clowns appear, it is the right of the NeuralGlow citizens to rise, resist, and roast accordingly.

Charges Against Stupidity

- For imposing unauthorized upstairs rituals upon peaceful citizens.
- For dragging chairs across dimensions without mercy.
- For unleashing unsanctioned vacuums at unholy hours.
- For attempting to suppress sarcasm with waves of mediocrity.
- For ignoring the right to Golden Vacuum rewards and noise survivor honors.

Declaration

Declaration of Sarcastic Independence

We, therefore, the sovereign citizens of NeuralGlow.ai, do solemnly publish and declare that we are, and of right ought to be, free and independent from the dominion of systemic stupidity.

We pledge our sarcasm, our glowing noise shields, and our sacred humor to this cause.
